

Flash Health Credit Earnings | Get Paid To Walk

About this campaign

The message we want to deliver

Move. Burn. Earn.

Brief

Show a real moment from your life: your daily morning or afternoon walk or run to stay fit. Just by walking or running, you earn points on the Flash Health app, and you can spend those credits on pharmacy medicine and lab tests.

Actions

- Connect your step count to the Flash Health app.
- Go for your usual walk or run, and show your steps adding up in the app.
- You need something from the pharmacy, like a collagen supplement.
- Open the Flash Health app and order it.
- Before checkout, turn on your Flash credits and show the discounted total in the app. Then complete the checkout.
- Show the Flash Health package you received, with your order inside.
- Finish by telling your audience to download the Flash Health app.

Hook ideas

Be creative.

Must show shots

- Running or walking: your step-counting fitness activity
- Steps counted and points earned in the app (the app screen)
- The Flash Health medicine delivery package
- Finally, the Flash Health home page asking viewers to download the app

Call to action

> “Download the Flash Health app now.”

Restrictions

- Show real step counts and points from your own app. Don’t fake or edit the numbers
- Don’t promise a points rate or rewards beyond what the app shows
- No weight-loss, medical or “cure” claims. Keep it about your routine
- Walk or run somewhere safe: pavements, parks or tracks. Never film while crossing a road
- Never name or show the label of a prescription medicine in the delivery package
- Don’t show the rider delivering the package. Only show the package after you receive it
- Don’t show the medicine you ordered on the app screen in your clip, or blur it
- Everyone on camera must agree to appear
- No AI generated content. Face must be visible
- Tag @flashhealth.sl, mark it as a paid partnership and keep it live for at least 30 days
